++ Valid for broadcast between 0600 and 1800

Headline:
Brightening up on Wednesday, a chance of frost tonight.

Today:
Rather cloudy with a few residual showers in the morning, mainly in the west. An improving picture to the east, with brightening skies and the best of any sunshine in Lincolnshire. Quite breezy along coastal areas though. Maximum temperature 13 deg C (55 deg F).

Tonight:
A cold and largely clear night although the odd shower cannot be ruled out, especially in the north. A frost is probable away from coastal areas. Minimum temperature 0 deg C (32 deg F).

Thursday:
Sunny spells and showers feeding in from the coast, reaching all parts during the afternoon. Feeling cold, with temperatures below average. Showers becoming confined to coastal areas in the evening. Maximum temperature 12 deg C (54 deg F).

Outlook for Friday to Sunday:
Largely dry and bright on most days, but a few showers in the afternoon. Mostly clear with a chance of frost overnight. Perhaps cloudier and less cold on Saturday.
